

Helping Your Child Make the Transition to Distance Learning

Behavior Matrix	Be Responsible	Be Respectful	Be Safe
Distance Learning	HELP YOUR CHILD TO: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Attend all online classes on time. ● Start classes with technology charged or plugged in. ● THINK before posting (Is it True? Is it Helpful? Is it Inspiring? Is it Necessary? Is it Kind?) ● Stay on task by listening to the teacher or completing the work. ● Visit only appropriate/ approved websites. ● Take good care of technology. OTHER WAYS TO SUPPORT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Expect good behavior. ● Contact teachers, as necessary, during designated hours. 	HELP YOUR CHILD TO: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Be patient with peers, teachers and themselves when technological issues arise. ● Take turns commenting during on-line lessons. ● Use academic/appropriate language in all communication with peers and adults. ● Make respectful facial expressions. ● Dress appropriately for online classes. ● Ensure their workspace is free from distractions and that background images are appropriate. OTHER WAYS TO SUPPORT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Support teacher(s) in making the transition to digital learning. 	HELP YOUR CHILD TO: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Accept communication or emails only from people they know. ● Avoid and report inappropriate sites and unsafe use. ● Be mindful of what is shared online. ● Keep login and other personal information private. ● Avoid eating or drinking while using technology. OTHER WAYS TO SUPPORT: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● Be aware of your child’s online activity and communicate to the teacher any concerns. ● Check in with your child daily.